

that was easy.®

rien de plus simple.™

Pads, paper and preparation

Steve Matyas, president of Staples Canada, completes today in Atlantic Canada the first leg of his seven-province tour of Staples stores. The company is preparing for the back-to-school season, its busiest period of the year. Some five million students are expected to return to public elementary or secondary schools in Canada this year.